Response to the email/letter received from Ian Hussein

I write on behalf of the board of directors in response to the letter recently received via email from Ian Hussein.

The board would remind members of the Bevan Britton report and the EGM called by the board where the content of the report was delivered. Since production of that report directors have worked on the recommendations made in respect of the governance of the Institute as per the wishes of members that engaged with the investigator and attended the EGM.

On the specific matters contained in the recent newsletter that Ian Hussein mentions, the board will make no further statement and would remind him of the final paragraph of the recent newsletter.

Finally, the board has no intention of making any comment on any staff matter therefore should any member have any specific complaints I would invite you to forward the same to the board.
