CTTS – Crematorium Technicians Training Scheme

NVQ Accreditation for CTTS is now being finalised. Look out for news on availability of this nationally recognised qualification.

Those with old CTTS certificates will also be able to convert these to NVQ level.

Only the CTTS conversion will refresh your old certificate to NVQ level.

All CTTS training and examinations are carried out at your site to a nationally recognised educational standard – NVQ.

Reinstalling Memorials

The Institute has been advised that authorities have been informed that ‘resin only’ can be used to reinstall memorials. It should be noted that in order to comply with the NAMM Code of Practice it is necessary to incorporate compliant dowells of the correct size within memorial joints and not rely totally on resin.

Should your authority decide to use resin only it is advisable to obtain test data and a guarantee from the supplier of the product on sale or from the company/companies using this product on your site.

Conference 05

A surge of applications has been received for Harrogate 2005 since the issue of the form and flyer therefore it is advisable to book early to avoid disappointment.
